Logistics Fact Sheet

An introduction to the Logistics Industry in and around the Tees Valley area

What is the Logistics Sector?

Logistics is the movement and supply of all goods (or freight) from raw materials, through all stages of the manufacturing process to the delivery of the finished product to companies and consumers. This is known as the 'supply chain.' All forms of transport are involved in distributing freight – road, rail, air, sea and waterways.

Employment in the sector has steadily increased since the early 1990s with numbers peaking in 2001 at 2.1 million people employed across the UK. There are always new opportunities opening in the sector especially as the industry is growing in a post Brexit environment.

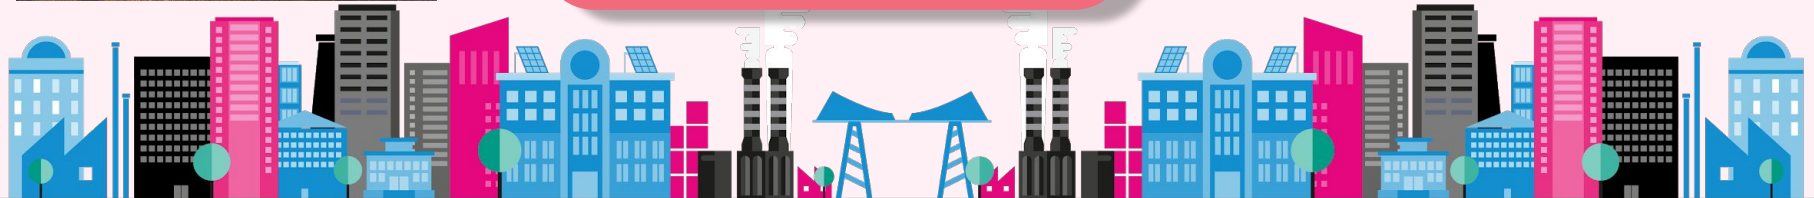

About The Logistics Sector of Tees Valley
